

Building the Risk Intelligent Enterprise through e-Learning

When an organisation commits to improving the risk knowledge and development of its employees, the investment is returned in the form of a risk intelligent enterprise.

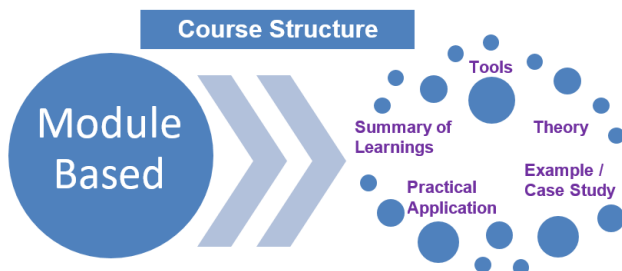

Our Approach

TheRiskTower offers unmatched consulting services which can now be combined with best-in-class e-Learning training programmes to drive results for our clients. Technology and innovation combine efforts to create environments that are conducive for improved learning and cohesive collaboration. TheRiskTower's e-Learning programme has been created to help you meet the challenge of developing a risk intelligent enterprise that adds real value to your business. Benefit from a consistent, cost-effective method for delivering employee training in the work environment.

Assessment and Delivery

We aim to assess your organisation's learning requirements by:

- Identifying training needs in line with organisational risk maturity levels
- Link training content to each user's risk competency levels and requirements
- Tailor the content to your organisation's risk methodology
- Identify assessment parameters
- Delivery method via a Learning Management System

Tangible Benefits

The benefits of e-Learning include:

- Lower costs and improved efficiencies – Less travel time to and from training events.
- Higher quality results – Employees learn at their own pace. Interactive courses are designed to promote long-term retention of information. The discussion portal encourages ongoing risk-related conversations at all levels and across all divisions.
- Better performing business – New knowledge is applied on the job, processes are improved and risks are mitigated.
- Ease of access – Information can be accessed on laptops, tablets and mobile phones at all times.
- Embedding risk management across the organisation – TheRiskTower's e-Learning platform helps organisations to develop a more robust risk culture, reach higher levels of risk maturity and ensures a common understanding of risk.
